

ETNO-MLex Regulatory Summit | Radisson Blu Royal | 23 June 2015

Eduardo Martínez Rivero, Head of Unit, DG COMP, Antitrust – Telecoms, European Commission

Eduardo Martínez Rivero heads the Antitrust Telecoms unit in the Competition Directorate-General of the European Commission.

He trained as a lawyer at the Universidad de Oviedo, where he graduated with honours in 1988 (Premio extraordinario de fin de carrera; Premio al mejor alumno de la Facultad de Derecho).

Eduardo Martínez Rivero then followed European law studies at the College of Europe in Bruges, and after some private practice in a Brussels law firm joined the European civil service in 1991. During his twenty-four years at the European Commission, Eduardo has been involved in several policy areas, with a focus on Competition and on the Single Market. In addition to electronic communications, he has covered service sectors such as financial services and transport, as well as manufacturing industries.